UV Threshold tape The best threshold tape on the market today! Protects thresholds from scratches during construction and removes cleanly. 6 month use on metal entry thresholds.

UV properties prevent flaking
Saves you time and money
Thick, 9 mils of protection
Leaves no adhesive residue
Protects original anodized finish on thresholds

Protects sliding door tracks!

Ordinary threshold tapes are adversely affected by UV light leading to flaking and adhesive residue. Rather than saving time, these tapes cost you more in time and money than not using any protection.

Customer Testimonial:

We put the tape down over the tracks and then sliced it so that would could fold it down into the channels, and then we placed another piece down in the channel itself. The doors still SLIDES! The tape is slick enough that the rollers still roll, and the channel in the panel itself glides right past and over the tape. It’s great! We also put one on the regular sliding door with a standard sliding door sill, and even it still slides. It’s a little harder to slide it, but the tradeoff in what the finished door sill will look like 6 to 8 months from now is well worth it.
